

Seeing Jesus

We can't see Jesus like Bartimaeus could at the end of today's gospel. We have symbols and reminders of Jesus in our worship place and in our homes. We think of Jesus when we see a cross. We think of Jesus when we see the bread and wine of communion. We think of Jesus when we see or hear the stories in the Bible.

What do you see that reminds you of Jesus? Draw two reminders here:

*Open our eyes to see where you lead us, dear Lord.
Amen*

This week

Place some visible reminders of Jesus' presence in your home, especially in your room.

gather

Welcome to worship.

We meet Bartimaeus in today's gospel. Bartimaeus's eyes were blind but his heart saw clearly who could help him. He cried out to Jesus. He knew that Jesus was different than all of the other teachers and leaders. Jesus healed him and Bartimaeus followed Jesus.

Look with your eyes for the one item in each line that is different from the rest and circle it.

Eyes of faith

Mark 10:46-52

Bartimaeus wants to see and he knows Jesus can help him. He asks Jesus for healing by saying, "Lord, have mercy." We ask the same thing of Jesus each Sunday when we use the KYRIE (kee-re-ay) in worship. We pray asking, "Lord, be with us and with others" in many ways during the Kyrie.

Use your eyes to look at the silly pictures then say them to yourself to figure out what the real words are in the Kyrie.

In , 2 the Lord. Lord, have MER+G .

4 the from AB+V-D and 4 our salvation, 2 the Lord.

Lord, have MER+G . 4 the of the and 4 the
